AI — WHO DOES WHAT
every step, and whose job it is

THE CASE

A café door opens and the waiter hears the order of the day forming: two fathers and two sons have come in together, hungry.

Each of them orders one plate of food, at ₹10 a plate. The waiter — who can plainly see the whole party from his counter — brings exactly three plates, and the bill comes to ₹30.

Nobody complains. Nobody has been short-changed, no plate is shared, and no one in the party is missing. The count of fathers and sons was honest. So was the waiter.

THE QUESTION

How can two fathers and two sons be only three people?

THE QUESTION + THREE HINTS

Open them one at a time. Stop the moment you have it — the last hint nearly gives it away.

THE QUESTION

How can two fathers and two sons be only three people?

HINT 1

Count the people, not the titles. A title is a job a person can hold — sometimes two at once.

HINT 2

One man at that table is doing double duty in the family tree.

HINT 3

Three generations are sitting at the table: the oldest, the youngest — and the man in the middle, who faces both ways.

YOUR MOVE

How can two fathers and two sons be only three people?

Decide your answer now — say it out loud or drop it in the comments — before you turn this page. No going back.

THE REVEAL

THE ANSWER

The three men are a grandfather, his son, and his grandson.

The grandfather is a father — the middle man's father. The middle man is a father too — the boy's father — and he is also a son: the grandfather's son. The boy is a son.

Count the titles: fathers = the grandfather and the middle man (two). Sons = the middle man and the boy (two). Count the people: three.

Three people, three plates, ₹30. The waiter's maths was perfect all along.

WHY IT WORKS

The riddle spends one quiet trick: it counts roles as if they were people. 'Father' and 'son' are relationships, not bodies — one body can hold both.

Once the middle generation is spotted, every number in the story falls into place with nothing left over. A clean riddle leaves no remainder; this one leaves none.

THE TRAP + COMMENT ENGINEERING

THE TRAP, NAMED
The listener pictures four chairs because four titles were announced. Titles were counted — people were not.

This riddle is built to split the comments into two camps. Seed both, then let them argue:

CAMP A SAYS
Team FOUR: 'Two fathers plus two sons is four people. The waiter short-changed them and nobody noticed.'

CAMP B SAYS
Team THREE: 'Three men. One of them is both a father and a son — the titles overlap.'

PIN THIS COMMENT
Before the reveal: how many plates — 3 or 4? Defend your number.

CHARACTER & STYLE LOCK

[VAULT-2D] STYLE LOCK — flat 2D storybook animation, deep-navy night palette with one lime accent, clean shapes, soft moonlight, no text inside the picture except where a prompt says so, vertical 9:16. Characters never change design between clips: generate the reference stills first, then build every clip from them.

LOCK
Three generations, told apart by exactly one feature each: grandfather — white moustache and glasses; father — plain shirt, no accessories; boy — a small cap. Never swap the features.

LOCK
The café is always the same: cream walls, navy counter, window table with three chairs. Daytime and warm — this is the series' one daylight story.

LOCK
Every number in this video (plates counted aloud, the bill) is drawn in editing, never generated.

Never redesign a locked character mid-video. If a generation drifts, regenerate the still — never accept a near-match.

REFERENCE IMAGE PROMPTS

Generate these stills first, in this order, and check each one before any video clip is made.

REF 1
REF-CAFE: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, cosy café interior, cream walls, navy counter, a window table with three chairs, morning light, no people, no text.

REF 2
REF-TRIO: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, three generations at a café table: a grandfather with a white moustache and glasses, his son in his thirties in a plain shirt, a small grandson with a cap — warm palette, full figures, no text.

REF 3
REF-WAITER: the café waiter alone on a plain cream background, flat 2D storybook style, apron, holding a tray with three plates, knowing smile, full body, no text.

REF 4
REF-BILL: top-down flat 2D illustration of a café table: three plates, three teacups, one blank paper bill in the centre with empty lines, warm palette, no readable text.

VIDEO PROMPT 1 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Warm café interior, late morning. A door opens and three figures enter in a line — but the framing crops them so the count is not yet obvious. The waiter looks up from his counter.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Two fathers and two sons walk into a café — and the waiter brings exactly three plates."

Sound: Café chatter, cups and cutlery.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 2 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The waiter carries a tray with exactly three plates through the café and sets them down one by one on a table by the window.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Each man orders one plate, ten rupees a plate. The bill comes to thirty — and nobody argues."

Sound: Plates set down, one, two, three.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 3 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Close on the handwritten bill beside the plates: the total area is left blank in the picture (the number is drawn in editing). A coin purse, three cups of tea, steam rising.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"No plate is shared. Nobody is missing. And the count — two fathers, two sons — was completely honest."

Sound: A pencil scratching the bill.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 4 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Freeze on the wide café shot — three chairs at the window table, composition leaves the lower third open. Perfectly still for the pause.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"So how many men are sitting at that table? Say your number out loud before the reveal."

Sound: Silence over the café murmur.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 5 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds

The three figures turn to camera one at a time: an old man with a white moustache, a man in his thirties, a small boy with a cap. Arrows of family connection are added in editing — leave space above their heads.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip

"Meet them: a grandfather. His son. And the little boy. The man in the middle faces both ways."

Sound: Three soft chimes, one per face.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 6 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The three eat together, laughing. The waiter leans on his counter, arms crossed, vindicated. Warm light.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Two fathers. Two sons. Three men. The waiter was right all along — follow for a new riddle every day."

Sound: Warm café sounds, a child's laugh.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

AGENT MASTER PROMPT

Paste this whole prompt to the agent (Google Antigravity) with this book. It runs the video build end to end.

MASTER PROMPT

You are producing a 60-second vertical riddle video, 'TWO FATHERS, TWO SONS'. Use the story, hints and reveal in this book as the script — do not invent a different answer. Step 1: generate the reference stills from the Reference Image Prompts page, in order, and check each against the Character & Style Lock. Step 2: build the six clips in Google Flow, one per Video Prompt page, using Frames-to-Video from the checked stills, one tiny action per clip, narration generated inside each clip using the locked voice. Step 3: assemble the clips in order 1-6, keep the question on screen until the reveal clip, captions in the series style, no dead air. Step 4: run the Edit Checklist page and fix every failure before export. Deliver a 1080x1920 MP4.

VOICE LOCK — one warm American male narrator, 30-35, calm and confident, slightly amused at the question beats, dead serious at the reveal. Same voice, same pace, every clip. The narration is generated INSIDE each Flow clip; listen-check every clip and regenerate only failures.

NARRATION SCRIPT

Six lines, about ten seconds each — sixty seconds in total. Record or generate them exactly as written.

THE THUMBNAIL

THE IDEA

Top-down café table, three plates, three chairs — and the question hanging over it. Edit-drawn text: '2 FATHERS + 2 SONS = ?'

IMAGE PROMPT

Flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, top-down view of a round café table with exactly three plates and three chairs around it, warm cream and navy palette, the top third of the frame left empty for title text, no text in the image.

Rules: the question, never the answer. Three words or fewer of big text, drawn in editing — generated lettering garbles. Check it at profile-picture size before posting.

EDIT CHECKLIST

Nothing posts until every line passes.

CHECK
Frame-check every beat: characters match the lock, no drift, no warped hands or faces.

CHECK
Every number and word on screen is drawn in editing and read back — generated text is never trusted.

CHECK
The question stays on screen until the reveal beat; the answer never appears early — not in a caption, not in a frame.

CHECK
Listen to the full cut: one voice throughout, no dead air, no clip where the narration went missing.

CHECK
The reveal lands in the final seconds; the last frame carries the follow prompt.

CHECK
Thumbnail checked small; title and caption lead with the question, never the answer.

AI — WHO DOES WHAT

Every step of this book's video, and whose job it is.

THE AGENT (Antigravity)
Reads this book, plans the shots, writes the generation queue, assembles the edit, runs the checklist.

GOOGLE FLOW
Generates the reference stills, then the six clips with the narration inside each clip.

THE EDITOR (you, or the agent)
Draws all on-screen text and numbers, sets captions, checks every frame and every second of audio.

THE CHANNEL
Posts with the title, caption and pinned comment from the Posting Copy page — question first, answer never.

Part 2 idea: The same machine, bigger table: two grandfathers, two fathers and two sons — seven titles, five people. Ask for the plate count and watch the comments melt.

ABOUT THIS BOOK

One riddle, taken seriously: a verified answer, a locked visual style, and the complete route from page to posted video — script, narration, image prompts, video prompts, thumbnail and posting copy, all in one pack.

OWNERSHIP
This book — its text, structure and design — is owned by OTT TITANS. Reading or downloading it grants you the right to enjoy it and to produce your own version of the riddle video on your own channels. It never transfers ownership of the book.

The riddle itself is a classic that has travelled for years. This pack — its words, structure and production system — is the original work.

CASE CLOSED

The three men are a grandfather, his son, and his grandson.

A new riddle lands every day. Solve the next one before the reveal.
