AI — WHO DOES WHAT
every step, and whose job it is

THE CASE

Three friends check into a hotel. The room costs $30, so each pays $10 and they go upstairs.

Later the manager realises the room was on offer at $25. He sends the bellboy back with $5. On the way, the bellboy quietly keeps $2 for himself and returns $1 to each friend.

Now do the famous sum. Each friend has paid $9 — that is $27. The bellboy has $2. $27 + $2 = $29. The friends started with $30. A dollar is missing… apparently.

THE QUESTION

Where did the missing dollar go?

THE QUESTION + THREE HINTS

Open them one at a time. Stop the moment you have it — the last hint nearly gives it away.

THE QUESTION

Where did the missing dollar go?

HINT 1

Follow the money as two piles: what the friends no longer hold, and who is holding it now.

HINT 2

Ask a colder question: what is the $27 actually made of? List its ingredients.

HINT 3

In the famous sum, one amount is being counted on both sides of the ledger.

YOUR MOVE

Where did the missing dollar go?

Decide your answer now — say it out loud or drop it in the comments — before you turn this page. No going back.

THE REVEAL

THE ANSWER

There is no missing dollar. The sum is rigged.

The $27 the friends paid is not separate from the bellboy's $2 — it contains it. Of the $27, $25 went to the hotel and $2 went to the bellboy. Adding the $2 again counts it twice.

The honest ledger: $25 (hotel) + $2 (bellboy) + $3 (handed back to the friends) = $30. Every dollar accounted for. Nothing vanished except a badly-built sum.

WHY IT WORKS

The trick is a category error dressed as arithmetic. $27 is money that left the friends' pockets. The bellboy's $2 is part of where it went — not an extra pile to add on top.

If you want to add something to $27, the only honest partner is the $3 the friends got back. Direction matters: money-out adds to money-out, never to money-held-by-someone-else.

THE TRAP + COMMENT ENGINEERING

THE TRAP, NAMED
The story marches you to the sum so smoothly that you perform it without asking whether the sum means anything. Addition is easy; bookkeeping is the skill.

This riddle is built to split the comments into two camps. Seed both, then let them argue:

CAMP A SAYS
Team STOLEN: 'The bellboy took more than two. A dollar is missing because somebody pocketed it — the maths says so.'

CAMP B SAYS
Team NEVER MISSING: 'There is no missing dollar. The famous sum is built wrong — it counts the bellboy's two dollars twice.'

PIN THIS COMMENT
Where's the dollar — STOLEN or NEVER MISSING? Vote before the reveal.

CHARACTER & STYLE LOCK

[VAULT-2D] STYLE LOCK — flat 2D storybook animation, deep-navy night palette with one lime accent, clean shapes, soft moonlight, no text inside the picture except where a prompt says so, vertical 9:16. Characters never change design between clips: generate the reference stills first, then build every clip from them.

LOCK
The hotel is frozen in the 1950s: teal walls, gold trim, brass bell, the bellboy's red uniform. Nothing modern appears — no phones, no cards, cash only.

LOCK
Money never shows a number in a generated frame. Every figure ($30, $25, $27, $29) is drawn in editing — generated amounts garble, and this riddle is its figures.

LOCK
The bellboy's expression is the only acting note: pleasant in the lobby, shifty in the corridor, sweating at the end. Same face design throughout.

Never redesign a locked character mid-video. If a generation drifts, regenerate the still — never accept a near-match.

REFERENCE IMAGE PROMPTS

Generate these stills first, in this order, and check each one before any video clip is made.

REF 1
REF-DESK: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a 1950s hotel front desk in teal and gold, brass bell on the counter, three friends seen from behind, no visible money amounts, no readable text.

REF 2
REF-BELLBOY: the bellboy alone on a plain teal background, flat 2D storybook style, red uniform and cap, holding a small empty tray, pleasant but shifty expression, full body, no text.

REF 3
REF-CORRIDOR: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a 1950s hotel corridor, teal walls, gold lamps, one door at the end, empty, no text.

REF 4
REF-LEDGER: top-down flat 2D illustration of an open hotel ledger on a desk, blank ruled lines (all writing is drawn in editing), a pen beside it, teal and gold palette, no readable text.

VIDEO PROMPT 1 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
A 1950s hotel front desk, teal and gold. Three friends each place a banknote on the counter; the clerk rings a brass bell. The amounts are never shown in the picture — money stays face-down or plain.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Three friends. A thirty-dollar room. And a dollar that vanishes into thin air."

Sound: A brass desk bell, lobby echo.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 2 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The manager hands the bellboy a small tray with plain coins; the bellboy nods and walks toward a corridor. Slow tracking feel, one direction only.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Each friend pays ten. Then the manager drops the price to twenty-five — and sends five dollars back with the bellboy."

Sound: Footsteps on carpet, a tray's chime.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 3 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
In the corridor, the bellboy glances around and slips two coins into his own pocket, then knocks on a door and hands over one coin to each of three hands.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"On the way, the bellboy pockets two, and returns one dollar to each friend. Now, each friend has paid nine."

Sound: Two coins slipping into a pocket — quiet.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 4 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Freeze on the front desk, the ledger open, perfectly still. The pause — composition leaves the centre of the frame open for the famous sum (drawn in editing).

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Nine times three is twenty-seven. Plus the bellboy's two — twenty-nine. They started with thirty. Where is the last dollar?"

Sound: Silence, a page turning.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 5 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds

Top-down on the ledger page: three piles of plain coins arrange themselves — a large pile, a small pile of two, and three single coins — as the honest bookkeeping replaces the famous sum. All labels drawn in editing.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip

"Look closer. The twenty-seven already contains the bellboy's two. Twenty-five went to the hotel, two to him — you just counted him twice."

Sound: Coins sliding into three piles.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 6 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The full ledger balances: the three friends shrug and laugh in the lobby, the bellboy sweats at the edge of frame. Warm closing light.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Twenty-five, plus two, plus the three handed back — thirty. Nothing vanished. Follow for a new riddle every day."

Sound: Lobby warmth, a relieved laugh.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

AGENT MASTER PROMPT

Paste this whole prompt to the agent (Google Antigravity) with this book. It runs the video build end to end.

MASTER PROMPT

You are producing a 60-second vertical riddle video, 'THE MISSING DOLLAR'. Use the story, hints and reveal in this book as the script — do not invent a different answer. Step 1: generate the reference stills from the Reference Image Prompts page, in order, and check each against the Character & Style Lock. Step 2: build the six clips in Google Flow, one per Video Prompt page, using Frames-to-Video from the checked stills, one tiny action per clip, narration generated inside each clip using the locked voice. Step 3: assemble the clips in order 1-6, keep the question on screen until the reveal clip, captions in the series style, no dead air. Step 4: run the Edit Checklist page and fix every failure before export. Deliver a 1080x1920 MP4.

VOICE LOCK — one warm American male narrator, 30-35, calm and confident, slightly amused at the question beats, dead serious at the reveal. Same voice, same pace, every clip. The narration is generated INSIDE each Flow clip; listen-check every clip and regenerate only failures.

NARRATION SCRIPT

THE THUMBNAIL

THE IDEA

Three friends at the desk, coins on the counter, one coin ringed in lime with a question mark. Edit-drawn text: 'WHERE IS THE $1?'

IMAGE PROMPT

Flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16: a 1950s hotel front desk in teal and gold, three friends handing plain banknotes to a clerk, a small pile of coins on the counter, the top third of the frame left empty for title text, no numbers or text in the image.

Rules: the question, never the answer. Three words or fewer of big text, drawn in editing — generated lettering garbles. Check it at profile-picture size before posting.

EDIT CHECKLIST

Nothing posts until every line passes.

CHECK
Frame-check every beat: characters match the lock, no drift, no warped hands or faces.

CHECK
Every number and word on screen is drawn in editing and read back — generated text is never trusted.

CHECK
The question stays on screen until the reveal beat; the answer never appears early — not in a caption, not in a frame.

CHECK
Listen to the full cut: one voice throughout, no dead air, no clip where the narration went missing.

CHECK
The reveal lands in the final seconds; the last frame carries the follow prompt.

CHECK
Thumbnail checked small; title and caption lead with the question, never the answer.

AI — WHO DOES WHAT

THE AGENT (Antigravity)
Reads this book, plans the shots, writes the generation queue, assembles the edit, runs the checklist.

GOOGLE FLOW
Generates the reference stills, then the six clips with the narration inside each clip.

THE EDITOR (you, or the agent)
Draws all on-screen text and numbers, sets captions, checks every frame and every second of audio.

THE CHANNEL
Posts with the title, caption and pinned comment from the Posting Copy page — question first, answer never.

Part 2 idea: The sequel sting: run the same night with a $50 room and a cashier who returns $6 — rebuild the famous sum and let the comments rebuild the trap themselves.

ABOUT THIS BOOK

One riddle, taken seriously: a verified answer, a locked visual style, and the complete route from page to posted video — script, narration, image prompts, video prompts, thumbnail and posting copy, all in one pack.

OWNERSHIP
This book — its text, structure and design — is owned by OTT TITANS. Reading or downloading it grants you the right to enjoy it and to produce your own version of the riddle video on your own channels. It never transfers ownership of the book.

The riddle itself is a classic that has travelled for years. This pack — its words, structure and production system — is the original work.

CASE CLOSED

There is no missing dollar. The sum is rigged.

A new riddle lands every day. Solve the next one before the reveal.
