AI — WHO DOES WHAT
every step, and whose job it is

THE CASE

A man pushes his car along the road. It is slow work, but he has been collecting money all day and he owns property in several places.

At last he reaches a hotel and rolls his car to a stop in front of it. He looks at the hotel, does the maths — and his face falls.

The moment he arrives, he knows he is bankrupt. The hotel did it. Nothing about the car breaking down, no bill for repairs — the arrival itself ruins him.

THE QUESTION

How can arriving at a hotel bankrupt a man who owns property?

THE QUESTION + THREE HINTS

Open them one at a time. Stop the moment you have it — the last hint nearly gives it away.

THE QUESTION

How can arriving at a hotel bankrupt a man who owns property?

HINT 1

Question the scale of the scene. Is the car a car? Is the road a road? Is the hotel a hotel?

HINT 2

Collecting money all day, owning property, ruined by one building's rent — where does that economy exist?

HINT 3

Think of the most famous board in the world, and the little metal car that travels around it.

YOUR MOVE

How can arriving at a hotel bankrupt a man who owns property?

Decide your answer now — say it out loud or drop it in the comments — before you turn this page. No going back.

THE REVEAL

THE ANSWER

He is playing Monopoly. The 'car' is his token; it has landed on an opponent's hotel, and the rent bankrupts him.

There is no real road and no real car. The man is a player in a game of Monopoly, pushing his little metal car token around the board, exactly as every player does.

All day he has been collecting rent and buying property — and now his token lands on a square built up with an opponent's hotel, the most expensive rent on the board. The rent is more than he can pay. The moment his car 'arrives at the hotel', he is bankrupt — out of the game.

WHY IT WORKS

Every strange detail maps one-to-one: pushing (a token is pushed, never driven), collecting money (passing Go, collecting rent), owning property (his streets), and a hotel whose mere arrival destroys him (the rent).

Like Romeo and Juliet, the trap is a default picture — full-size life — applied to a story that never promised it. The riddle is a scale illusion.

THE TRAP + COMMENT ENGINEERING

THE TRAP, NAMED
Inventing real-world finance: loans, debts, a hotel bill for a wedding. The story's verbs are the tell — men drive cars; only players push them.

This riddle is built to split the comments into two camps. Seed both, then let them argue:

CAMP A SAYS
Team REAL DEBT: 'Loans caught up with him. The hotel is where the bill — or the buyout — finally lands. Rich men go bankrupt at hotels.'

CAMP B SAYS
Team BOARD GAME: 'He pushes the car because it's a token. Property, rent, a hotel square — it's Monopoly, and the rent just bankrupted him.'

PIN THIS COMMENT
Before the reveal: REAL LIFE or A GAME? Commit — and name the game if you dare.

CHARACTER & STYLE LOCK

[VAULT-2D] STYLE LOCK — flat 2D storybook animation, deep-navy night palette with one lime accent, clean shapes, soft moonlight, no text inside the picture except where a prompt says so, vertical 9:16. Characters never change design between clips: generate the reference stills first, then build every clip from them.

LOCK
Before the reveal, the scene must pass as real life: a full-size man, a full-size car, a real road — no board elements leak in early. The scale shift happens only in clip 5.

LOCK
The man never drives, sits in, or starts the car — he only ever pushes it. That verb is the clue and must survive every frame.

LOCK
Board squares stay blank in generated frames; all property names and money values are drawn in editing. Play money shows no readable denominations.

Never redesign a locked character mid-video. If a generation drifts, regenerate the still — never accept a near-match.

REFERENCE IMAGE PROMPTS

Generate these stills first, in this order, and check each one before any video clip is made.

REF 1
REF-ROAD: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a man pushing a small car along an empty road at golden hour, houses in the distance, warm palette, no text.

REF 2
REF-HOTEL: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a grand hotel building at the end of a road, flags above the door, golden light, no readable signs or text.

REF 3
REF-BOARD: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a giant board-game track of blank coloured squares curving around the frame, a small metal car token on one square and a green hotel piece on another, no words or text.

REF 4
REF-TOKEN: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, a small metal car playing token standing on a board square beside paper play money, close view, warm light, no text.

VIDEO PROMPT 1 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
A man straining to push a small car along an empty road at golden hour, his pockets visibly heavy with paper money. Slow tracking feel, one direction.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"A man pushes his car along the road. All day he has been collecting money. He owns property in several places."

Sound: A car's slow creak, footsteps on tarmac.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 2 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
A roadside montage: the man stops at property after property — a house, a station, a shop — collecting money at each with a satisfied nod.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"At last, he reaches a hotel — and rolls his car to a stop. He does the maths. His face falls."

Sound: Paper money rustling, three times.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 3 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Ahead on the road, a grand hotel rises. The man pushes his car the last stretch and stops dead in front of its doors, staring up.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"The moment he arrives, he knows he is bankrupt. The hotel did it. Not a bill. Not a breakdown. The arrival itself."

Sound: The road quieting, a distant bell.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 4 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Freeze on the man and his car before the hotel, perfectly still. Leave the lower third open for the pause.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"How can a hotel bankrupt a man with property? Lock your theory in the comments."

Sound: Silence at the hotel doors.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 5 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The camera pulls up and back — and the road resolves into the coloured squares of a giant board, the car shrinking into a small metal token on one square (board names drawn in editing; squares stay blank).

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Shrink the scene. The car is not a car you drive. Nobody drives it — he pushes it. Where do we push little cars?"

Sound: A soft board-game shimmer as the scale shifts.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 6 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Top-down on the board: the little car token on the hotel square, a hotel piece beside it, play money changing hands across the board. Warm, comic, final.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"He's playing Monopoly. His token just landed on an opponent's hotel — and the rent takes everything. Follow for daily riddles."

Sound: Play money sliding, a player's groan.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

AGENT MASTER PROMPT

Paste this whole prompt to the agent (Google Antigravity) with this book. It runs the video build end to end.

MASTER PROMPT

You are producing a 60-second vertical riddle video, 'THE MAN WHO PUSHED HIS CAR'. Use the story, hints and reveal in this book as the script — do not invent a different answer. Step 1: generate the reference stills from the Reference Image Prompts page, in order, and check each against the Character & Style Lock. Step 2: build the six clips in Google Flow, one per Video Prompt page, using Frames-to-Video from the checked stills, one tiny action per clip, narration generated inside each clip using the locked voice. Step 3: assemble the clips in order 1-6, keep the question on screen until the reveal clip, captions in the series style, no dead air. Step 4: run the Edit Checklist page and fix every failure before export. Deliver a 1080x1920 MP4.

VOICE LOCK — one warm American male narrator, 30-35, calm and confident, slightly amused at the question beats, dead serious at the reveal. Same voice, same pace, every clip. The narration is generated INSIDE each Flow clip; listen-check every clip and regenerate only failures.

NARRATION SCRIPT

THE THUMBNAIL

THE IDEA

The man pushing his car toward the grand hotel, money stuffed in his pockets. Edit-drawn text: 'ARRIVED… AND BANKRUPT'.

IMAGE PROMPT

Flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16: a man pushing a small car along a road toward a grand hotel in golden light, paper money peeking from his pockets, the top third of the frame left empty for title text, no text in the image.

Rules: the question, never the answer. Three words or fewer of big text, drawn in editing — generated lettering garbles. Check it at profile-picture size before posting.

EDIT CHECKLIST

Nothing posts until every line passes.

CHECK
Frame-check every beat: characters match the lock, no drift, no warped hands or faces.

CHECK
Every number and word on screen is drawn in editing and read back — generated text is never trusted.

CHECK
The question stays on screen until the reveal beat; the answer never appears early — not in a caption, not in a frame.

CHECK
Listen to the full cut: one voice throughout, no dead air, no clip where the narration went missing.

CHECK
The reveal lands in the final seconds; the last frame carries the follow prompt.

CHECK
Thumbnail checked small; title and caption lead with the question, never the answer.

AI — WHO DOES WHAT

Every step of this book's video, and whose job it is.

THE AGENT (Antigravity)
Reads this book, plans the shots, writes the generation queue, assembles the edit, runs the checklist.

GOOGLE FLOW
Generates the reference stills, then the six clips with the narration inside each clip.

THE EDITOR (you, or the agent)
Draws all on-screen text and numbers, sets captions, checks every frame and every second of audio.

THE CHANNEL
Posts with the title, caption and pinned comment from the Posting Copy page — question first, answer never.

Part 2 idea: The sequel square: the same player pushes his car past a row of little green houses and stops one square short of the hotel. Let the comments price his escape routes before Part 2.

ABOUT THIS BOOK

One riddle, taken seriously: a verified answer, a locked visual style, and the complete route from page to posted video — script, narration, image prompts, video prompts, thumbnail and posting copy, all in one pack.

OWNERSHIP
This book — its text, structure and design — is owned by OTT TITANS. Reading or downloading it grants you the right to enjoy it and to produce your own version of the riddle video on your own channels. It never transfers ownership of the book.

The riddle itself is a classic that has travelled for years. This pack — its words, structure and production system — is the original work.

CASE CLOSED

He is playing Monopoly. The 'car' is his token; it has landed on an opponent's hotel, and the rent bankrupts him.

A new riddle lands every day. Solve the next one before the reveal.
