AI — WHO DOES WHAT
every step, and whose job it is

THE CASE

You stand in a stone corridor before two doors. One opens to freedom. The other opens to a trap, and there is no third chance.

Two guards stand with you. One always tells the truth. One always lies. You do not know which guard is which, and neither will ever simply tell you.

The rules allow you exactly one question, asked to exactly one guard. Then you must choose a door and walk through it.

THE QUESTION

What single question guarantees you find the safe door?

THE QUESTION + THREE HINTS

Open them one at a time. Stop the moment you have it — the last hint nearly gives it away.

THE QUESTION

What single question guarantees you find the safe door?

HINT 1

Don't try to find the honest guard. You can't — and you don't need to.

HINT 2

Make your question pass through BOTH guards: ask one guard what the OTHER would say.

HINT 3

A truth and a lie chained together always come out as the same thing. Build on that.

YOUR MOVE

What single question guarantees you find the safe door?

Decide your answer now — say it out loud or drop it in the comments — before you turn this page. No going back.

THE REVEAL

THE ANSWER

Ask either guard: “Which door would the other guard say leads to freedom?” — then take the opposite door.

Ask the truth-teller, and he honestly reports the liar's answer — which is a lie, pointing at the trap door. Ask the liar, and he lies about the truth-teller's honest answer — and also points at the trap door.

Either way, the door you are shown is the trap. The question routes both guards' answers through one truth and one lie, so the result is always the same: a lie. Walk through the other door.

WHY IT WORKS

The trick is composition. A truth passed through a liar flips once; a lie passed through a truth-teller stays flipped. Truth-then-lie and lie-then-truth both land on false — the unknown identity of the guard cancels out.

You never learn which guard was which, and you never needed to. The question is built so the uncertainty destroys itself.

THE TRAP + COMMENT ENGINEERING

THE TRAP, NAMED
Trying to unmask the liar first. With one question and no way to check the answer, identity is a dead end — the winning move is to make identity irrelevant.

This riddle is built to split the comments into two camps. Seed both, then let them argue:

CAMP A SAYS
Team DIRECT: 'Ask one guard which door is safe, then read his face. A liar will hesitate — you can spot him.'

CAMP B SAYS
Team OTHER GUARD: 'Ask what the other guard would say, then do the opposite. Both possible answers point to the trap.'

PIN THIS COMMENT
Write your exact one question in the comments BEFORE the reveal. Wording matters.

CHARACTER & STYLE LOCK

[VAULT-2D] STYLE LOCK — flat 2D storybook animation, deep-navy night palette with one lime accent, clean shapes, soft moonlight, no text inside the picture except where a prompt says so, vertical 9:16. Characters never change design between clips: generate the reference stills first, then build every clip from them.

LOCK
The guards never swap sides or designs: tall navy cloak always on the left, shorter rust-red cloak always on the right. No visual clue ever marks the truth-teller or the liar.

LOCK
The doors are identical in every generated frame — same wood, same iron bands, no signs. Any FREEDOM or TRAP label is drawn in editing only after the reveal.

LOCK
The traveller wears the same plain grey hooded coat throughout, with empty hands and no props.

Never redesign a locked character mid-video. If a generation drifts, regenerate the still — never accept a near-match.

REFERENCE IMAGE PROMPTS

Generate these stills first, in this order, and check each one before any video clip is made.

REF 1
REF-CORRIDOR: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, torch-lit stone corridor ending in two identical dark wooden doors with iron bands, deep navy shadows, no people, no symbols or text.

REF 2
REF-GUARDS: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, two guards side by side on a plain dark background: the left guard tall in a navy cloak, the right guard shorter in a rust-red cloak, both calm, full bodies, no text.

REF 3
REF-TRAVELLER: a lone traveller alone on a plain deep-navy background, flat 2D storybook style, plain grey hooded coat, empty hands, thoughtful expression, full body, no text.

REF 4
REF-DOORS: flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16, straight-on view of two identical dark wooden doors in a stone wall, one torch on each side, no labels, no text.

VIDEO PROMPT 1 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
A torch-lit stone corridor with two identical dark wooden doors. Two guards stand symmetrically between them while a lone traveller faces the choice. Slow push-in.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Two doors stand before you. One opens to freedom. The other opens to a trap."

Sound: Torch crackle and stone-room echo.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 2 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Close view of the two guards' calm faces in profile. Their designs remain fixed and neither face gives any clue about who lies.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Two guards stand beside them. One always tells the truth. One always lies. You do not know which is which."

Sound: A low tense note.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 3 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The traveller raises one hand to ask a question, then freezes before speaking. Both doors fill the background.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"You may ask one guard exactly one question. Then you choose a door — and live with the choice."

Sound: One breath, then silence.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 4 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
Freeze on the full corridor, perfectly still, with the traveller between the guards and both doors visible. Leave the lower third open.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"What question saves you either way? Lock your answer in the comments before the reveal."

Sound: Silence under distant dripping water.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 5 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
A clean visual chain: the traveller speaks to one guard, a soft translucent arrow loops toward the second guard and returns, then points toward one door. All wording is added in editing.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Do not ask about this guard. Ask what the other guard would say. Then take the opposite door."

Sound: Two soft chimes for the chained answer.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

VIDEO PROMPT 6 OF 6

PICTURE — what Flow builds
The traveller opens the opposite door onto bright morning fields and steps through. The guards remain motionless in the dark corridor.

NARRATION — generated inside this clip
"Truth or lie, the answer points to the trap — because it passed through both. Follow for a new riddle every day."

Sound: Morning birds beyond the open door.

One tiny action only. If the clip drifts, cut to the verified still and use a slow zoom instead.

AGENT MASTER PROMPT

Paste this whole prompt to the agent (Google Antigravity) with this book. It runs the video build end to end.

MASTER PROMPT

You are producing a 60-second vertical riddle video, 'THE TWO DOORS'. Use the story, hints and reveal in this book as the script — do not invent a different answer. Step 1: generate the reference stills from the Reference Image Prompts page, in order, and check each against the Character & Style Lock. Step 2: build the six clips in Google Flow, one per Video Prompt page, using Frames-to-Video from the checked stills, one tiny action per clip, narration generated inside each clip using the locked voice. Step 3: assemble the clips in order 1-6, keep the question on screen until the reveal clip, captions in the series style, no dead air. Step 4: run the Edit Checklist page and fix every failure before export. Deliver a 1080x1920 MP4.

VOICE LOCK — one warm American male narrator, 30-35, calm and confident, slightly amused at the question beats, dead serious at the reveal. Same voice, same pace, every clip. The narration is generated INSIDE each Flow clip; listen-check every clip and regenerate only failures.

NARRATION SCRIPT

Six lines, about ten seconds each — sixty seconds in total. Record or generate them exactly as written.

THE THUMBNAIL

THE IDEA

Two identical doors, two guards, one traveller frozen between them. Edit-drawn text: 'ONE QUESTION. ONE LIE.'

IMAGE PROMPT

Flat 2D storybook illustration, vertical 9:16: two identical dark wooden doors in a torch-lit stone corridor, two guards standing between them and a lone traveller facing the doors, deep navy palette, the top third left dark and empty for title text, no text in the image.

Rules: the question, never the answer. Three words or fewer of big text, drawn in editing — generated lettering garbles. Check it at profile-picture size before posting.

EDIT CHECKLIST

Nothing posts until every line passes.

CHECK
Frame-check every beat: characters match the lock, no drift, no warped hands or faces.

CHECK
Every number and word on screen is drawn in editing and read back — generated text is never trusted.

CHECK
The question stays on screen until the reveal beat; the answer never appears early — not in a caption, not in a frame.

CHECK
Listen to the full cut: one voice throughout, no dead air, no clip where the narration went missing.

CHECK
The reveal lands in the final seconds; the last frame carries the follow prompt.

CHECK
Thumbnail checked small; title and caption lead with the question, never the answer.

AI — WHO DOES WHAT

Every step of this book's video, and whose job it is.

THE AGENT (Antigravity)
Reads this book, plans the shots, writes the generation queue, assembles the edit, runs the checklist.

GOOGLE FLOW
Generates the reference stills, then the six clips with the narration inside each clip.

THE EDITOR (you, or the agent)
Draws all on-screen text and numbers, sets captions, checks every frame and every second of audio.

THE CHANNEL
Posts with the title, caption and pinned comment from the Posting Copy page — question first, answer never.

Part 2 idea: The yes-or-no version: the guards may answer only yes or no. Ask viewers to build one question that still routes through both guards and survives either answer.

ABOUT THIS BOOK

One riddle, taken seriously: a verified answer, a locked visual style, and the complete route from page to posted video — script, narration, image prompts, video prompts, thumbnail and posting copy, all in one pack.

OWNERSHIP
This book — its text, structure and design — is owned by OTT TITANS. Reading or downloading it grants you the right to enjoy it and to produce your own version of the riddle video on your own channels. It never transfers ownership of the book.

The riddle itself is a classic that has travelled for years. This pack — its words, structure and production system — is the original work.

CASE CLOSED

Ask either guard: “Which door would the other guard say leads to freedom?” – then take the opposite door.

A new riddle lands every day. Solve the next one before the reveal.
